Archeological SITES

There are 19 archeological sites all along the Mexican Caribbean, where visitors can learn about different aspects of the ancient Mayan civilization.

PHOTO: TULUM

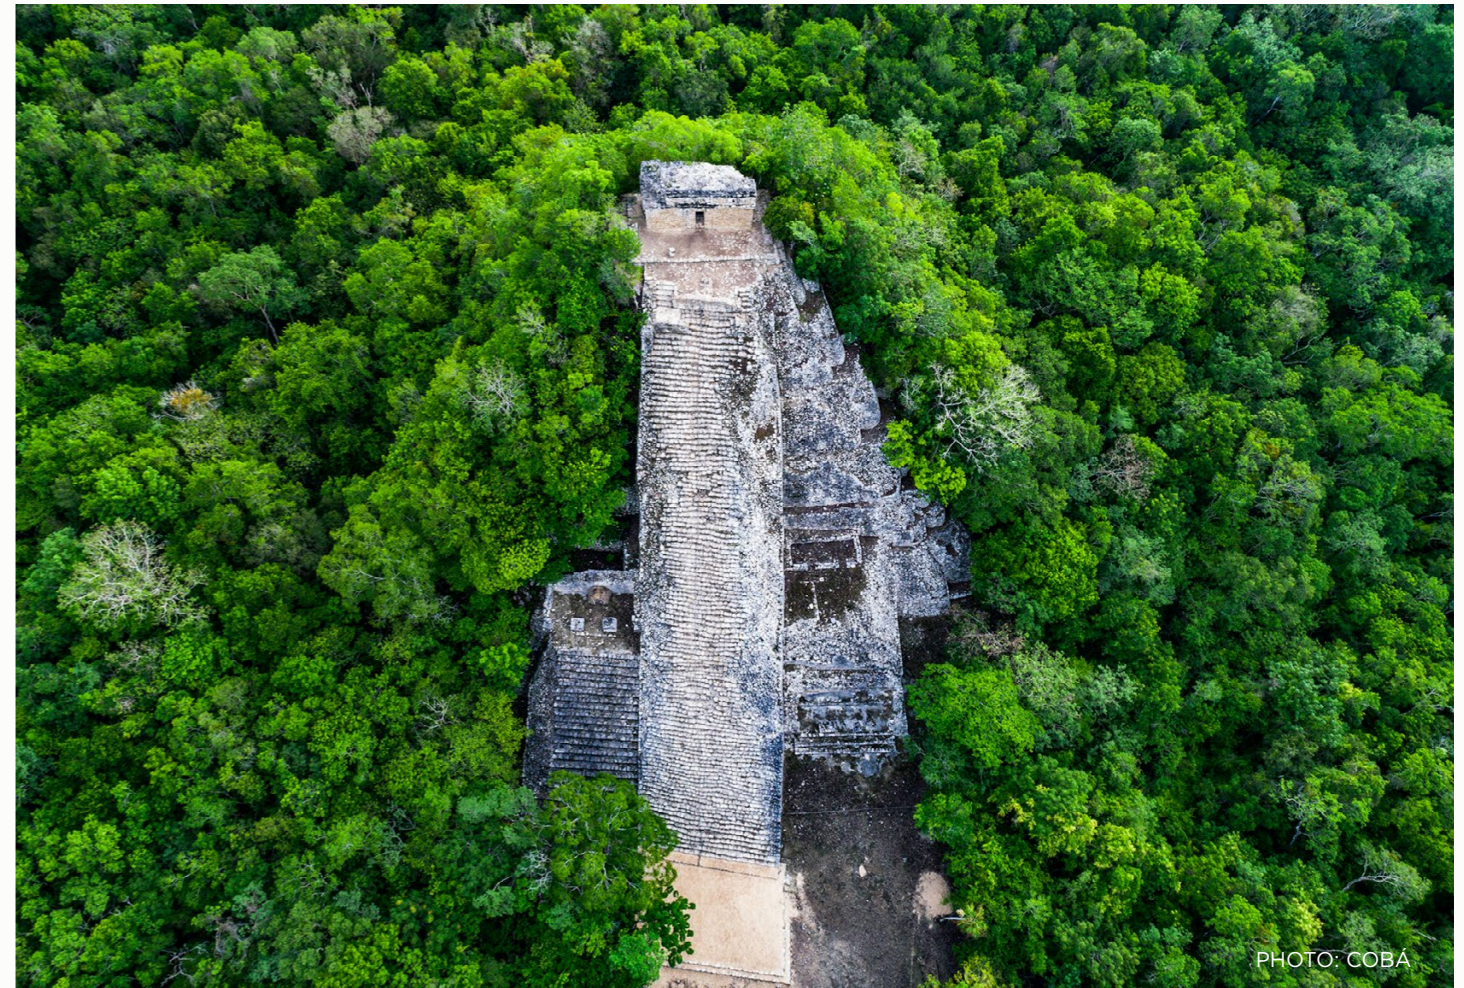

PHOTO: COBÁ

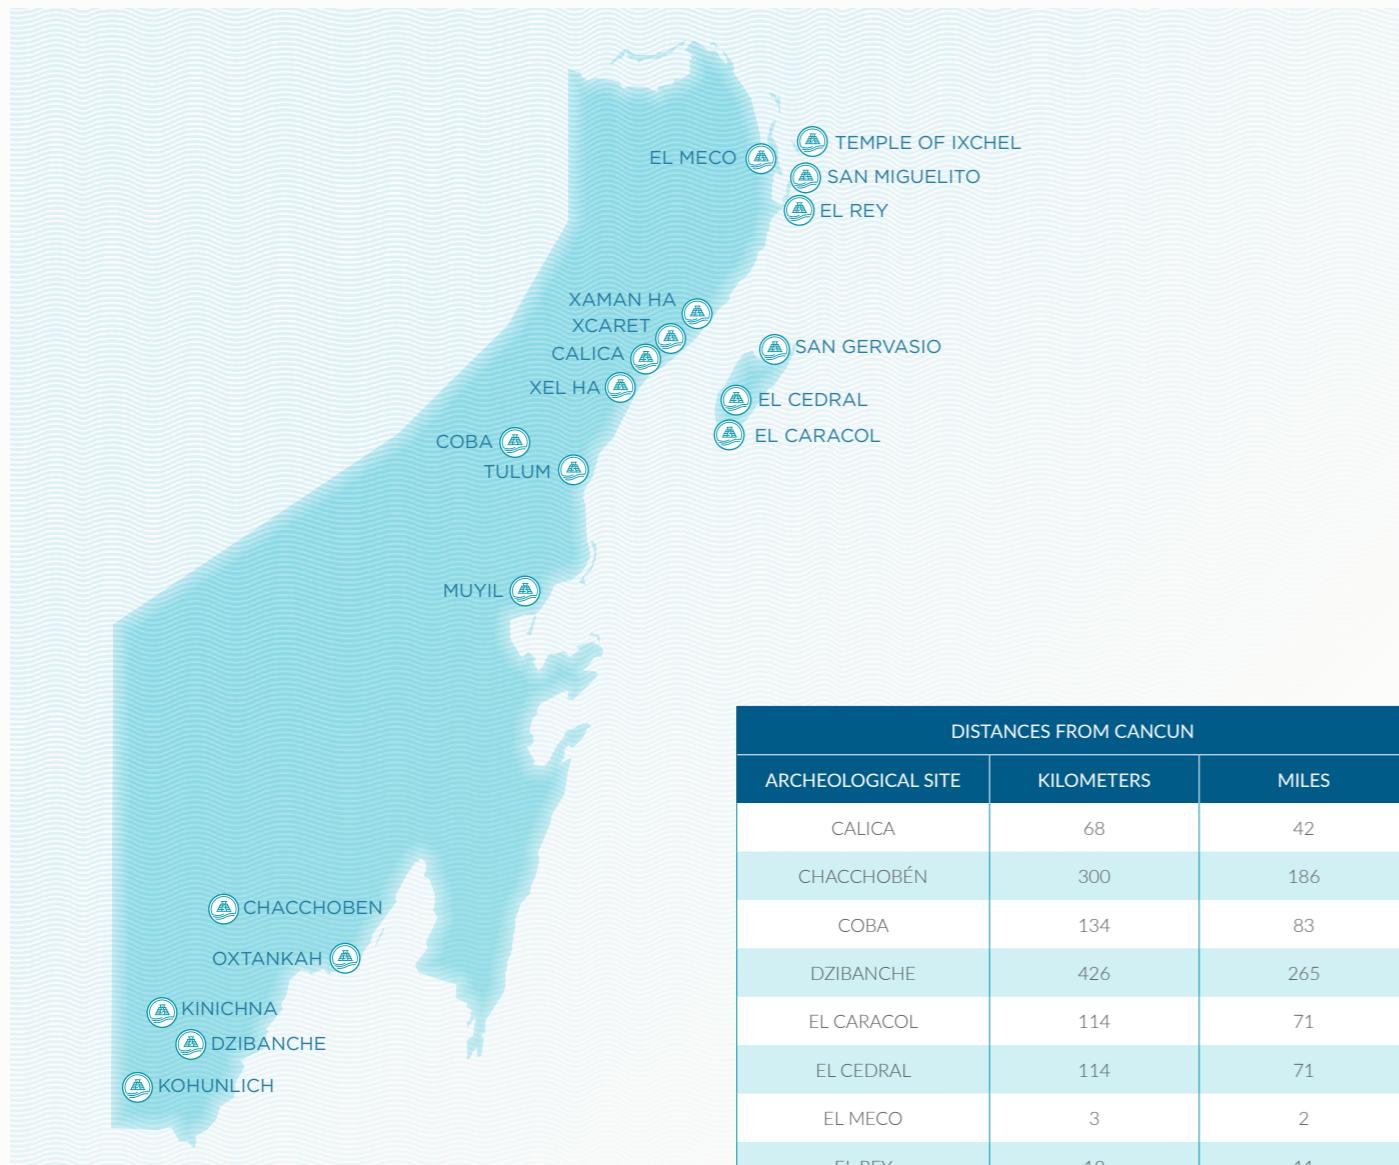

Dotted along the Riviera Maya, you will find some Mayan vestiges and small archaeological sites such as Xaman Há, Xcaret and Calica. The largest archaeological sites of the region are Tulum, Cobá and Muyil, this last one is located south of Tulum, in the area known as Maya Ka'an.

Tulum: The most visited archaeological site in the Mexican Caribbean, considered one of the most beautiful archaeological treasures in Mexico. This ancient Mayan city was built on the shores of the Caribbean Sea. It has over 60 structures; the main one being "El Castillo" (The Castle), which is 7.5 meters high.

Cobá: Nestled in the thick jungle, Cobá is surrounded by two large lakes. Nohoch Mul is the tallest pyramid of the northern part of the Yucatan Peninsula, which is 42 meters high. It is located one hour away from Tulum.

Muyil: Located in Maya Ka'an, 20 minutes south of Tulum. This archaeological site sits within the Sian Ka'an Biosphere Reserve, which is a natural protected area. Muyil is one of the most ancient Mayan cities in the region, located right next to the Muyil lagoon. Surrounded by lush vegetation, it has three different temples, being "El Castillo" the most impressive one, as it is 17 meters high.

PUERTO

Morelos

Puerto Morelos is a small fishing village in the Mexican Caribbean, with a unique personality, a relaxing atmosphere, and a bohemian vibe that everybody loves, which allows you to connect with the locals.

It is an adventure destination that stands out due to its natural wonders, such as lush mangroves, an exuberant jungle, and cenotes.

Puerto Morelos is located in the northern part of the Quintana Roo state, between Cancun and Playa del Carmen.

DISTANCE

34.6 km (21.5 miles)
away from Playa del Carmen
97.2 km (60.4 miles) away from Tulum

Puerto Morelos has 67 hotels with 7,057 rooms available, including hostels, cabins, small hotels, huge all-inclusive resorts, as well as exclusive boutique hotels.

Whether on the sea, the cenotes, underground rivers or caverns, Puerto Morelos has plenty of water activities to appeal to everyone. The proximity of the reef to the coast is why the swell here is so smooth, perfect for taking a catamaran trip, paddleboarding and kayaking, highlighting scuba diving and snorkeling.

Sitting just 400 meters away from the shore, the Puerto Morelos National Reef Park is part of the “Great Mesoamerican Reef”, the second-largest in the world. It is one of the best places in the Mexican Caribbean to scuba dive and snorkel, thanks to its abundant marine life, gentle waves, shallow depth, and clear waters. Some of the species that you will be able to observe here are turtles, manta rays, lobsters, nurse sharks, and eels.

Remember to be a responsible traveler and just use reef-safe sunscreen and/or a long-sleeved rash guard to protect yourself from the sun.

Beautiful beaches, colorful reefs, exuberant jungle, mystical cenotes, caverns and underwater rivers, are some of the imposing natural wonders that Puerto Morelos holds. It is an adventure destination where you will live thrilling experiences with your family, friends or your partner.

THE CENOTES ROUTE

One of the most popular attractions of Puerto Morelos, dotted with 57 of these mystical sinkholes, but also several nature and adventure parks where you can perform exciting activities, such as horseback riding, bird watching, trekking, ziplining, rappelling, mountain biking, ATVing, among others.

Within The Cenotes Route you will find the Cenote Zapote, which holds the “Hells Bells”, unique hollowed cone-shaped rock formations that can reach lengths of two meters and an 80-centimeter diameter. This cenote is the only place in the world where these kinds of speleothems have been found.

Some of the best cenotes in the area are: Cenote Zapote, Siete Bocas, Kin-Há, La Noria, Las Mojarras, Chilam Balam, Verde Lucero and Boca del Puma.

Every person that has ever been to Puerto Morelos can say its gastronomy is incomparable! Being a fishing village, the catch of the day and dishes made out of seafood are its highlights, but you can also enjoy a wide variety of Mexican and international cuisine.

There is a wide range of restaurants where you can delight your palate with the gastronomy of this charming town, ranging from the most luxurious to the most casual, turning the spotlight on beach clubs, coffee shops and of course restaurants that are located by the beach. Most of the restaurants are located around the Main Square (Plaza Principal). Another option is to go to some of Puerto Morelos' hotels to enjoy fine dining experiences, where prestigious international chefs run the kitchens. Some of these restaurants are ranked as "Best Restaurants in Mexico" and "Best 50 Restaurants in Latin America", delighting foodies who come from all over the world. Be sure to plan your trip in advance, as several restaurants within hotels in Puerto Morelos often host gastronomic festivals throughout the year.

Don't miss the opportunity of eating in some restaurant that is located by the beach, so you can enjoy the spectacular view.

Visit La Ruta de Los Cenotes (The Cenotes Route).

Scuba dive or snorkel around the Puerto Morelos National Reef Park.

Spend the day at one of its many beach clubs.

Have fun at its nature and adventure parks.

Take a picture in El Faro Inclinado (the leaning lighthouse) and the photographic parador.

Enjoy Puerto Morelos's gastronomy, mainly made out of fresh seafood.

Walk around the main square to watch the amazing sunsets and try some local snacks and sweets.

Go shopping at the Artisans Market.

Stroll around the Dr. Alfredo Barrera Marín Botanical Garden to learn about the region's flora and fauna.

Visit others destinations in the Mexican Caribbean: Isla Mujeres, Holbox, Costa Mujeres, Cancun, Playa del Carmen, Tulum, Cozumel, Maya Ka'an, Mahahual, Bacalar or Chetumal.

PLAYA DEL Carmen

Playa del Carmen is “the heart of the Riviera Maya”, an ancient fishing village that has evolved into an increasingly cosmopolitan destination, without losing the relaxed and Caribbean essence that characterizes it.

Playa del Carmen is located in the northern part of Quintana Roo, between Puerto Morelos and Tulum.

DISTANCE

55 km (34.3 miles) away from the Cancun International Airport.
34.6 km (21.5 miles) away from Puerto Morelos.
64.7 km (40 miles) away from Tulum.

ACCOMMODATIONS

Downtown Playa del Carmen has exclusive boutique hotels, small hotels and even hostels. While the big resorts are mainly located in the surrounding areas.

- Hotels recognized by the American Automobile Association (AAA) with the Four or Five Diamond award.
- All-inclusive or European Plan hotels.
- Family or adults-only hotels.
- Hoteles Business Class.
- Boutique hotels.
- Hotels that have different facilities for hosting events, groups and congresses.
- Hostels.

Nowadays, Playa del Carmen has 287 hotels with 44,121 rooms available.

You can perform all kinds of fun water activities in spectacular sceneries such as the ocean, cenotes, caverns or underwater rivers, some of which can be found very close to Playa del Carmen.

Some of the activities you can do in the ocean include kitesurfing, windsurfing, parasailing, kayaking, paddleboarding, jet skiing, snorkeling, scuba diving or taking a catamaran or yacht trip around the coast.

If you consider yourself to be adventurous enough, we recommend you to book a bull shark diving tour. This majestic creature can be found in Playa del Carmen's waters from November to March. IMPORTANT: This activity is only available for certified divers.

Get into the depths of the Earth by visiting a cenote or a cavern located a few minutes away from downtown Playa del Carmen. Beautiful natural wonders, where you can paddleboard, kayak, snorkel or scuba dive, besides admiring the impressive stalactites and stalagmites; stunning rock formations which have taken hundreds of thousands of years to form.

Nature AND ADVENTURE

PHOTO: XCARET

Whether in the ocean, the jungle, cenotes, underwater rivers or caverns, there are a lot of things to do in Playa del Carmen. You can go ziplining across the jungle, rappelling in cenotes, mountain biking, or ATVing through hidden trails and even skydiving. Playa del Carmen is the only place in the Mexican Caribbean where you can perform all these extreme sports.

64.4 km (40 miles) away
Playa del Carmen.

ACCOMMODATIONS

Nowadays, Tulum has 229 hotels with more than 10,868 rooms available.

Tulum's hotels are mostly small, but they feature luxurious facilities. Many of its boutique hotels have taken care of the environment by merging perfectly with nature, bringing real art pieces to life.

- Boutique hotels.
- Bungalows.
- Wellness hotels.
- All-inclusive resorts (located on Cancun-Tulum highway).
- Family or adults-only hotels.
- Hostels.
- Glamping options.

Tulum has beautiful natural wonders where you can do many exciting activities at unique settings, from calm beaches of turquoise waters to impressive cenotes and lagoons. It is also an idyllic place due to the fact that it is home to a great diversity of flora and fauna species.

There are many things to do for nature and adventure lovers, including zipline circuits, snorkeling, scuba diving, kayaking, off-road biking and even ATViing through the Mayan jungle.

Famous for its wellness offers, Tulum boasts some of the best wellness centers and spas that have been recognized worldwide as true sanctuaries designed to pamper mind, body and soul, using Mayan healing techniques and indigenous ingredients.

Most of Tulum's wellness centers and healing sanctuaries are facing the ocean or located in the middle of the jungle, involving all senses for a unique wellness experience. In Tulum, you will find several wellness hotels, most of which offer complimentary activities, like sunrise yoga and meditation, and other programs and retreats, such as bootcamps.

Tulum has exquisite international, national and regional cuisine. It offers a wide variety of dining options to satisfy every visitor. In recent years, renowned national and international chefs have made Tulum their new home resulting in new and interesting culinary proposals that mix regional ingredients and recipes with contemporary techniques, which has placed Tulum on the world's gastronomic scene.

Here, travelers will find a wide range of restaurants to choose from and can opt between a farm-to-table eatery downtown, or more upscale fine dining restaurants located in the middle of the jungle or in the top of the trees.

Akumal

Akumal is a small village that sits between Playa del Carmen and Tulum, whose Mayan name translates to “Place of Turtles”. Declared as a Sea Turtles Sanctuary due to the fact that every year, hundreds of sea turtles arrive on its coast to lay their eggs on the beach during the summer months, giving travelers the opportunity to admire them up close by snorkeling or scuba diving near them, taking into account to keep a safe distance of at least two meters to not disturb them, not to touch them nor feed them.
